The path laid out for getting started

This riddle was made on the date: December 15, 2025.

Originally this riddle was assessable either through the coincidence of downloading the resource pack and opening it or through the YouTube video:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MmrsE2Wq0Rs>

Or later through the update pushed to the official ElyndorSMP website

<https://elyndorsmp.net/> .

The awareness of that change and the lead that there is such riddle was raised on the 28.09.2026 in the discord server of Elyndor as the following message:

How to solve it

ElyndorSMP website

After visiting the website and inspecting element users were supposed to find the following hidden comments:

```
<!-- INSPECT ELYNDORSMP.NET/DISCORD/ -->
```

```
<!-- SOMETHING IS HIDDEN -->

Following this path would bring them to the discord link and skipping /discord/ entirely.

To avoid this JavaScript had to be disabled in the browser preventing a redirect to the discord link. Doing this revealed a page with the following contents:

The encrypted number of characters decode on base64 to:

<https://modrinth.com/resourcepack/elyndor-resourcepack/version/2.0>

Base64 has an index of 1 on the site, which suggests there will be more in the future.

Elyndor resource pack – Modrinth

Description

On the last line of the resource packs description, we read

In particular, the splashes could contain clues and community references from the Elyndor community and even reveal previously unknown names that are important for the world-building of the Elynverse (Elyndor universe).

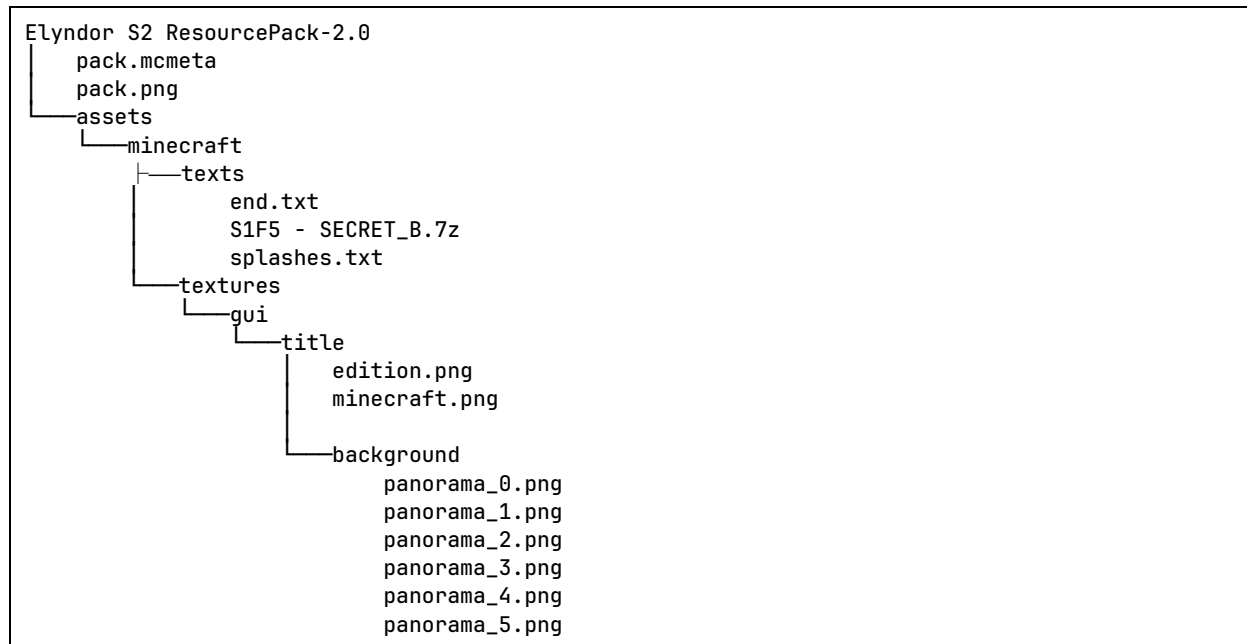

Versions

There are 2 versions on the site. One is 2.0 and the other is 1.3

Comparing those two versions we can see that v2.0 is 90.52MB in size and v1.3 has the exact same meaning; there is no difference between them.

The resource pack

After downloading any of the versions and extracting it we can see the following files:

We notice a suspicious file named “S1F5 - SECRET_B.7z”, trying to open it will be unsuccessful due to the file being password protected.

By using the information, the user gets from the packs description we know the user must search in splashes.txt, so, trying out every line of splashes as a password to open the file will also be unsuccessful. Now the user must search for clues from splashes to gain the password to continue.

The Password

There are 2 very outstanding lines in splashes.txt

1. Llic uwt xty sghtsjm mskhqñ
2. boxpig41

Number 1 is an encrypted text with the Vigenère cipher.

Number 2 is the password for the real tomiecon.7z file of 2011. Using the knowledge that Elyndor has many dune references and knowing that the decoy file of the tomiecon.7z file was a dune reference users might use the decoy password on the encrypted text

PS: Thespicemustflow TEXT: Llic uwt xty sghtsjm mskhqñ

→ Seek for the ancient fossil

Using this as a password we can open the 7z successfully.

The Video File

The File is named:

S1F5 - SECRET_B.mp4

The first part of the file is formatted in the German language as [Season][Episode], therefore this mp4 file is Episode 5 of season 1 of something?

Opening the file, we are met with a 2 minute and 56 seconds video made in Minecraft.

The video takes place in the Runirur system on the planet Zenthis, on the Territory of Zyris by Lamistans Outpost, on the date 11:20am 30th January and year 16624. The video teaches us where the video takes place in the first seconds.

Throughout the video the Character Corruptus reports to his “sir” as Corruptus refers to. In his reports he talks about anomalies and the Espace of test subjects from the Lamistan Laboratory, reporting a character named Walon has stolen files from a tree, his sir ordering Corruptus to stop Walon from releasing Erologista’s secret file and a character named Clom has used a position and disappeared.

- Corruptus asks about T.I.M.E and is instantly dismissed about it.
